Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2006048014A1] A bracket member (206) is intended for mounting on a frame piece of a window or door and comprises a first set of engagement means in the form of pins (220,221). The pins are intended for cooperation with a second set of engagement means in the corresponding frame piece. In order to secure correct positioning of the bracket member, the first set of engagement means provide a distinctive indication for the mounting of the bracket members on the frame pieces.
