Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1808100A1] The head bed (1) has a bedtick (2) with a block-shaped foam body (3) including a cavity (4), and a set of spring units (5) arranged in the cavity. The spring units have stiffness for preventing sealing of the cavity for automatic interior ventilation of the head bed during compressive stress. The cavity has channels extending transverse to a couch direction, where the channels are opened at side walls and at the body.
