Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1810593A1] The cosmetic device has two applicators, where each applicator has a stem and is dipped into a respective reservoir (3). Each reservoir has a reservoir neck with an external thread on which a respective coupling part (5) is screwed. The reservoirs are releasably attachable to each other by the screwed coupling parts via a coupling sleeve (14) by a snap-type connection. The coupling parts serve as a closing cap. The snap-type connection comprises a locking bead (16) disposed inside the coupling sleeve in an outer end region of the coupling sleeve.
