Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1813542A1] The container has a t-stack (7) adapted to be disposed proximate to a side (315) of a body (3) with a central bar (71) approximately perpendicular to a base (311) of the body. The t-stack is integrated to the body and articulated on the side while being mobile between a low position in which the central bar is approximately parallel to the base, and a high position in which the bar is approximately perpendicular to the base. Flanges (73) of the t-stack extend parallel to the side and are pressed on posts (314) of body in the high position of the t-stack.
