Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1652443A1] The clasp has two closing units (18, 20) respectively arranged on two ends of a bracelet to be joined. The closing units have a pushrod (28), hooks (40) and housings (42) for coupling the ends. Bands are mounted movably on the closing units for connecting the closing units. A device is arranged on a central point of the bands to define course of the bands in the closed position, according to the closing units. An independent claim is also included for a flexible bracelet equipped with a clasp.
