Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1818037A2] The hospital bed, with a height-adjustable frame on wheels, has a brake handle (36) to be moved between braked (42) and release (40) settings. When the bed is lowered (52) to the lowest position, a bed section (20,24) automatically trips the brake handle into the braked setting, where a brake component presses against the floor (50).
