Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2006035290A1] Incorrectly filled containers are disposed in a holder, the containers are raised and the heads of the withdrawing devices are airtightly pressed against the necks of the bottles. Then hollow needles, extending almost tot he bottom of the respective bottles are introduced and a supply line sterile compressed air to the liquid in the bottles, such that the pressure propels the liquid via the needles out of the bottles.
