Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1832492A2] The vehicle has a pushing step cartridge (2) extended from a vehicle door below a vehicle floor, where the cartridge comprises a drainage device (9) for water that is arrived in the cartridge. A drainage track (4) is arranged below a transition region between two base plates (6), where the base plates are arranged in a horizontal distance to each other for drainage purpose. The drainage track is connected with an interior of the cartridge over a drainage piping.
