Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1832808A1] The arrangement (1) has partially translucent diffuser units (2a,2b), which are arranged along a side preferably at opposite sides of jet direction (S) of a light (3). The diffuser units are produced from a flexible material such as fiber or a foil, where the diffuser units include several plates, and different structures. The light includes illuminants, which are arranged in one or more parallel rows. The diffuser units are designed as rollable hanging units. The light arrangement can be directly integrated into the window.
