Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2006066550A1] The aim of the invention is to provide a circular expander (1) that allows an easy-to-adjust, continuous passage of textiles while not impairing the quality of the passing tubular fabric (12). For this purpose, a magnetic bearing (8) is provided optionally at the inlet or outlet of the circular expander and a conventional roller bearing (9) is provided at the opposite end of the circular expander.
