Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1834564A2] The drier (1) has a hanging unit (2) that is designed in a hollow manner for hanging textile goods. Warm air is flowable through the hollow hanging unit in its longitudinal direction. The hanging unit consists of an opening for leaving the warm air into the surrounding area. The hanging unit is held using a tube-like support unit (3). A connecting unit is provided at an end of the support unit for connecting the support unit at a warm air source. The connecting unit is constructed as a leak device (5) with two air outlets. An independent claim is also included for a heating system for a recreation vehicle with a hand towel drier.
