Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1835116A1] The strip (10) has a hose (22) extended in a longitudinal direction of the strip and arranged on a strip's side, which is provided for a glued connection with a window- or door frame and an embrasure. The hose includes two adhesive films (28, 30) that run continuously in the longitudinal direction and are spaced apart from each other. The film (28) is formed for glued connection of the hose with the strip, and the film (30) is provided for glued connection of the hose with the window- or door frame and/or the embrasure.
