Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1839712A1] The ski binding jaw has a housing (1) arrangeable at or in ski-fixed guide profiles (5) in a ski-longitudinal direction by a support part in a sliding manner. A frame plate (7) is implemented with the support part or the housing in a single-piece manner or is connected with the support part or the housing in a fixed manner, where the frame plate is arranged in such a manner that a force acting on the frame plate from an ski boot is transferred onto the support part or the housing entirely or in large parts.
