Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1840299A1] Device for protecting swimming pools and the like, constituted by a cover attached to profiles provided with rolling elements on their ends, so that it facilitates collecting and extending the cover using a reel placed on an end of the pool. The reel fixed on one end of the pool facilitates collecting the cover and has a profile on its ends that increases the winding diameter, reducing the number of turns required to collect the cover completely.
