Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1841017A1] The assembly (10) has a stabilization unit (20) that is adjustable relative to a plug housing (12) along a plug contact between an original position and an end position. The stabilization unit is provided with a supporting leg and is supported in the plug housing by the supporting lug in the original position. The supporting leg is movable into a supporting position during plugging of connector parts (14, 18) to release the stabilization unit.
