Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1842955A2] The feeding component (1) has a receiving area (3) e.g. slot and/or recess, for temporarily receiving a part of washed clothes, where the receiving area is formed as a circular groove. The feeding component is designed as a scroller, where the feeding component comprises wheels (2) arranged at a base (4). The feeding component is arranged in or at a supporting arm in a movable manner. A gap between the wheels forms a part of the receiving area, where the wheels are connected with an axis.
