Abstract (en)
The hair grip has clamping jaws (1, 2) with a series of teeth (1b, 2b) and articulated with respect to each other along an articulation of longitudinal axis (I-I) for pivoting between open and closed positions. An elastic return unit permanently returns the jaws into open position. Unlockable locking units (5) selectively locking the jaws in closed position have an unlocking unit activable by user to unlock the jaws. The locking units are arranged to be locked automatically during pivoting of the jaws towards closed position.
