Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1857233A1] The device (1) has a loading compartment (2) and an unloading compartment (3), and blades (4) arranged parallel to each other between the compartments. A push button (5) is arranged to be displaced in the compartment (2). Pallets are connected to a displacement unit (9) to displace each pallet in the compartment (3) parallel to its base and transversal to displacement direction of the button between two positions. Each pallet is contiguous to a lateral edge of the base and enters in contact with the bread during its cutting in the respective positions.
