Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1865526A1] A program selector for a domestic appliance, particularly for a washing or dishwashing machine, comprises a rotating knob for the manual selection of the washing programme or the like. The selector comprises a cylindrical support structure adapted to be fixed to a control board of the domestic appliance and around which such knob is rotatably mounted. The cylindrical support structure has longitudinal seats in which are slidably mounted two button-shaped elements which are adapted to be independently pushed by the user, particularly for switching on and off the appliance.
