Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2006109333A1] Table (21) comprising a raised tabletop (24) as supported at at least two end 5 portions thereof by corresponding stands (28), and two or more retractable extensions (22), each one of them coupled to a corresponding stand (28) via a retracting/retracting mechanism (136, 138). This mechanism (136, 138) enables the related extension (22) to be displaced from a retracted position under the tabletop (24), to a protracted position, in which it is co-planar to the tabletop (24), in which said displacement comprises a rotation about the stand (28) and a rotation about a horizontal axis (X1). Said two or more extensions (22), when retracted, are staggered relative to each other, i.e. lie at a different distance from said tabletop (24).
