Abstract (en)

[origin: DE202005006850U1] A wall construction for an interior room comprises a carrying structure for a module (1) that has heating elements (4,5) on a base with an edge (8a,8b) to attach to a side or other wall. Electrical connections (6,7) lead to an edge and along a room corner to a control/energy supply unit. An independent claim is also included for a plate module for the above.
