Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1875834A1] The device has an angle unit (5) fastenable to a wall of a furniture, and a base plate (4) supportable at the angle unit. A retaining unit (6) is directly or indirectly mounted at the angle unit, and an end section of a bar (7) is mounted at the retaining unit, where the bar is rotatably held at the retaining unit relative to the angle unit. Rest units are designed in the form of projections or recesses at the retaining unit, where the retaining unit is selectively fixable at both sides of the angle unit.
