Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2006112735A1] An assembly for attaching devices(6) or accessories(l) to a helmet(7). Said assembly comprises a mounting component(4) having a coupling member(3) that is complementary engageable with a rotational insert(2). The mounting component(4) may be attached to the helmet(7) and the rotational insert(2) associated with the device(6) or accessory(6) to be attached, or vice versa. The rotational insert(2) is able to be rotated relative to the mounting component(4) in a direction of rotation axis substantially normal to the direction of engagement of the rotational insert(2) with the coupling member(3) of the mounting component(4).
