Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1878570A2] The unit has two form cylinders (06) which are arranged in different levels on the same control side of the printing unit (01), and usable with a printing form. A printing form magazine (08) is assigned to two form cylinders. A printing form, changeable between the printing form magazine and assigned form cylinder, is storable in each printing form magazine. A controlled handling mechanism (09) is provided at control side of printing unit, with which printing form magazines, arranged on the same control side of printing unit in different levels, are loadable at same time with printing form.
