Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1878847A2] The facade wall construction has a sub construction supported in stationary manner, on which plate holders are fastened, and facade panels (10), which are held over the plate holders. The plate holder has a base holder (7) and a flexible clamp (8) which forms an admission or a catch mechanism for the facade panels. The base holder and the flexible clamp are formed as separate components or the base holder and the flexible clamp are formed single-piece.
