Abstract (en)

A device for fixing sound adsorbent panels (20) and similar to a profile (30) fixed to a wall (40) of a ceiling or a wall comprises at least: - a base (2) almost flat and fit to match the face of the profile (30) opposite to the wall (40); - two lateral brackets (3), each one having an end fixed to the base (2) and the opposite end refolded to form a fixing means (4) almost parallel to the base (2) fit to be inserted between the wall (40) and the profile (30); - at least a connection (6) having an end fixed to the base (2) and the opposite end refolded for the insertion in a connecting fissure (21) of sound adsorbent and similar panel (20); - each bracket (3) having a length defined by the distance (S) between the base (2) and the respective fixing means (4) almost equal to the profile thickness (30); - the fixing means (4) being at a mutual minimal distance (M) equal to or longer than the profile width (30) in order to allow the engagement of the device (1) in such profile (30); - the two lateral brackets (3) being fixed to opposite end of two parallel sides (5) of the base (2) placed at a mutual distance (L) almost equal to the profile width (30).
