Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2006131554A1] Fastening arrangement on a lightweight structural element (1), consisting of a housing (2) which is incorporated in the lightweight structural element (1) and which has a bore (3) with an internal thread (4), and of a screw element (5). The housing (2) is formed in one piece. A threaded insert (6) formed as a helically wound wire is introduced into the bore (3) with a force fit and/or form fit, the internal boundary of which insert forms an internal thread (4) to allow a screw element (5) provided with an external thread (7) to be screwed in.
