Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1895238A2] The hearth (10) has a combustion air supplying channel (14) for external supply of combustion air into a combustion chamber (11). An exhaust gas discharging channel (13) discharges combustion exhaust gas from the chamber. An ambient air supplying channel (15) is in contact with the chamber and/or the channel (13) to provide the ambient air with high temperature to a room. A closing element (20) is arranged in the channel (14). The element is moved between two positions in which the channel (14) is in connection/not in connection with the chamber, respectively.
