Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2006125585A1] The invention relates to a side gusset bag (2) which is produced from a polyolefin material and which comprises a tubular section (1) including the front walls (5) and the sidewalls of the bag (2), the sidewalls comprising side gussets (4). The tubular section is also provided with a bottom section at the end of the tubular section, where the material of the tubular section is folded by 180° about an axis extending substantially at an angle to the side gussets (4). The inventive bag is characterized by a sheet (9) that covers at least parts of the folded section.
