Abstract (en)
[origin: DE102006042486B3] The method involves determining temperature of the cooling water as a surrounding variable during utilization of an air-water-heat exchanger. An air temperature is determined as the surrounding variable at an installation location of a washing machine e.g. dishwasher (1), during utilization of an air-air-heat exchanger (26). The quantity of a rinsing agent utilized in a rinsing-program section and/or a final temperature of a clear rinsing water utilized in a rinsing-program section are adjusted depending on the surrounding variable.
