Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2006133717A2] A sorting unit (1) for use in sorting animals, including in particular pigs, which sorting unit comprises a support structure (2) and a sorting sensor, for example associated with a weighing platform (4). The sorting unit (1) has an entry (10) and exits for the animals and a control unit (70), which is adapted to control the exits in response to an output signal from the sorting sensor. The sorting unit (1) is provided with three or more exits, each of which is provided with a gate (20, 30, and 40), which is being controlled by said control unit (70).
