Abstract (en)
The present invention provides a coin-roll storing machine which can reduce the dimension in the width direction and facilitate to ensure the installation space, as compared with those of a type including a plurality of coin-roll storing portions each adapted to put the coin-roll on the bottom face such that the axis of each coin-roll package extends in the horizontal width direction. In one aspect, a coin-roll storing machine 1 includes a storing main body 1a, and three coin-roll drawers 11, 12, 13, respectively provided such that they can be drawn out relative to the storing main body 1a. In the respective coin-roll drawers 11, 12, 13, a plurality of coin-roll storing portion 14 are provided, each for storing coin-roll B, with each axis of the coin-roll B being oriented in the vertical direction.
