Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2007004164A2] A gradient coil assembly (500) for use in magnetic resonance imaging is presented. The gradient coil assembly includes a first gradient coil portion (510) and a second gradient coil portion (520) disposed from the first gradient coil portion along a z-axis. The first gradient coil portion is shielded and the second gradient coil portion is unshielded.
