Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1927467A2] Satellite printing unit (16, 17) comprises inking systems (09) each arranged below a horizontal plane which runs tangentially to the assigned plate cylinders (07). The inking systems are arranged in an axis symmetrical manner to a vertical central plane of the satellite printing unit. An independent claim is also included for a printing tower containing two satellite printing units arranged over each other. Preferred Features: The inking systems are arranged in an axis symmetrical manner to the vertical central plane of the satellite printing unit. A damping system (08) is assigned to each plate cylinder and each damping system is arranged below the horizontal plane running tangentially below the assigned plate cylinder.
