Abstract (en)
[origin: FR2892528A1] The spectacles has a slit (5) at the level of a mounting zone of a corresponding branch (3) and extending to exterior of a glass and delimiting two independent glass portions. The branch is connected to the glass through a hook (10). The hook has a part (11) connected to the branch and another part (12) engaged between the portions. The part (12) presents a dimension, in which an angular position of the hook does not forms a gap between the portions, and another dimension in which the angular position of the hook forms the gap for interchanging lenses.
