Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1946897A1] The knife has a knife body with a pusher (6) driving a blade holder (2), and a trigger (4) acting on the holder. The pusher has a push stop (7) gripped with a counter stop (8) of the holder. The pusher and the holder comprise ramps cooperating for disengaging the push stop from the counter stop in a lateral direction perpendicular to a longitudinal retraction direction of a blade (1) when the holder and the blade are rotated towards an inclined cut position. The holder has a rear retention pin supported against a complementary shoulder of the body to retain the blade in the cut position.
