Abstract (en)
A packaging for nursery small pot plants comprises a casing (1) inside which a vase-carrier (2) is arranged provided with a plurality of seats suitable to receive the vases (3) of the small pot plants. The packaging further comprises a first blocking means (4) of the vases (3), arranged on the upper surface of said vase-carrier (2) and integral therewith, and a second blocking means (6) of the vase-carrier (2) arranged between the bottom of the casing (1) and the upper surface of the vase-carrier (2). The packaging according to the present invention prevents its content from coming out and overturning even in case of a complete overturn during transportation, thus avoiding the damage and/or the loss of the small pot plants contained therein.
