Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2007038391A2] A pharmaceutical or neutraceutical vessel containing a scented material which includes a pharmaceutical or neutraceutical container and a scented, shaped material, placed within or formed as part of the pharmaceutical or neutraceutical container, wherein the scented, shaped material includes a plastic composition, preferably a thermoplastic material, blended with a scent imparting material. In one embodiment, the scented, shaped material can be formed in the shape of a container for holding an adsorbing composition such as a desiccant or a gas adsorbing material. Alternatively, the scented material can be layered to form an inner portion of the pharmaceutical or neutraceutical container.
