Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2007054104A1] A cruise control for retrofitting in engine-powered vehicles. The cruise control comprises a cruise control unit (1), a first electrical connecting cable (18) for connecting the cruise control unit (1) to the position sensor in the accelerator of the vehicle, and a second connecting cable (19) for connecting the cruise control unit (1) to the engine computer of the vehicle. The cruise control is adapted to communicate via at least one data communication bus (29, 30, 34) in the vehicle.
