Abstract (en)
The connecting profile (10) has a fixing strip (12) and a covering part (16) which covers the gap between the connecting profile and the structural part. The covering part is connected to a contact bearing section (17) which can be fixed on the structural component. The fastening strip can be provided with a foam adhesive tape which has a lower adhesive force than the adhesive tape on the movable part (15) which forms the expansion member to adapt to temperature changes. A separable web (20) with holder (22) for a covering foil can be provided on the connecting profile.
