Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1958715A1] The method involves inserting a rivet (16) in orifices corresponding to two elements (14, 15) to be assembled, and locking the rivet by using an installation tool (17). A part of a stem (22) of the rivet is engaged by pinching on a part corresponding to a draw bar (18) of the installation tool before inserting the rivet in the orifices, where the draw bar is inserted inside the stem of the rivet.
