Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1958848A1] The vehicle has a rail car body (102) and a windshield arrangement (103). The wind shield arrangement has two sections in the vertical direction. The latter section is arranged below the former section. The windshield arrangement is formed in a transition area between the two sections relaxed against the former section. An independent claim is also included for a windshield arrangement for a vehicle, particularly for a rail-mounted vehicle.
