Abstract (en)
[origin: EP195885A1] The folded container (1) has two dimensionally stable elements. One of the element forms the ground (2) of the container and the other element forms an upper frame (4). The upper frame and the ground is connected by a flexible material. The container possesses a movable stored folding element. A supporting section (7) is provided in unfolded condition of the container for supporting the other dimensionally stable element.
