Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1959038A1] The lapper has deflection rollers (12a, 12b) forming a baffle surface along with a section of a cover belt (13), and an upper section of another cover belt (5) and an adjoining section of a card web transport belt (26) that are directed towards the surface. A supporting roller (25) is supported in a laying carriage (3), via which the belt (26) is guided to a deflecting roller (28) supported above the roller (12b) in an upper carriage (22), from which the belt (26) leaving the carriage (3) is returned above a level of an upper section of the belt (13) to the carriage (22).
