Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2007068320A1] The invention relates to a method and a device for producing cuboid (cigarette) packs (10) which are covered with an outer film wrap. The packs (10) are fed one after the other to a continuously revolving rotary folder (24) and are introduced into respective pockets (34) together with a cut (17) that is kept ready. During the subsequent rotary motion of the rotary folder (24) the cut (17) is folded around the pack (10) and overlapping folded tabs are interlinked by heat sealing.
