Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1962202A2] Methods, apparatus and articles of manufacture therefor, are disclosed for annotating documents. An embodiment for annotating documents may be performed by the method of: retrieving a document selected for display by a user; locating sub-document elements in content of the retrieved document; computing a similarity measure for each of the located sub-document elements; identifying similarity measures of annotated sub-document elements and the located sub-document elements that indicate a correspondence there between; augmenting the located sub-document elements of the retrieved document with annotations of those annotated sub-document elements that have comparable similarity measures; displaying the retrieved document augmented with annotations.
