Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2007072519A1] The invention refers to a connection device (1) of a box (101) and a cover (102) of a junction box (10). The connection device comprises hinge connection means (2) and a guide element (3). The hinge connection means have a first end (21) for coupling to the box and a second end (22) for coupling to the cover. The guide element is adapted to be slidably engaged with the first end of the hinge connection means and is provided with mounting means (30) adapted to be engaged with the box, if needed. The invention also regards a kit (100) comprising a junction box and a connection device. Finally, the invention regards a method for using such kit.
