Abstract (en)
[origin: DE202007004120U1] The armchair has a body (2) with two side parts (3) arranged parallel to each other, and seating parts (5) fastened to the side parts. A backrest (4) is adjusted by a motor (8), where a foot rest (6) is movable from a swivelable non-use position into a swivelable use position by a spindle drive (7). An adjustable fitting (10) has two-armed guide and adjusting levers (11, 12) that are movably and swivelably fastened together at a positioning frame (1). Arms that face the frame are flexibly connected with each other, while other arms are guided at the side parts and the drive.
