Abstract (en)
[origin: DE202007004802U1] A casement for a window or door with glazing (4) comprises frame parts (2) with a groove (3) to hold the glass before frame assembly. A sealing strip (13a) crosses a gap between groove and glass forming a channel filled with sealant and/or adhesive. The sealing strip is inclined from the groove sidewall (3a) down in the direction of the groove base (3c) and formed to compensate for glass thickness tolerances.
