Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2007085502A1] The invention relates to an environmental lighting device (1) having a luminaire (2). In building technology and in outdoor areas, areas or open areas must often be supplied with light and with sound. In the case of an environmental lighting device (1) having a luminaire (2) which is in the form of a sound-emitting element, sound is produced in addition to light by the luminaire (2), by means of an electromechanical transducer (8).
